PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I've spent the last two years turning ideas into reliable, scalable web applications. Most of my work revolves around JavaScript, Node.js, React, and MongoDB, but I enjoy picking up whatever tools get the job done. I've rebuilt slow, messy systems into clean, maintainable codebases, worked closely with developers, designers and product teams, and shipped features that genuinely improve user experience. Clean code, clear communication, and delivering what I promise are non-negotiables.
